WILKINS STADIUM

Athletes Unlimited Seasons Hosted: 2024 AUX Softball

Wilkins Stadium, the home for the Wichita State University softball team since 1998, will be the site for the 2024 Athletes Unlimited Pro Softball AUX competition.

The on-campus venue holds seating for 1,000 fans and includes a locker room equipped with showers, coaches offices, team meeting rooms, umpire facilities, training, a ground-level press box, ticket booth, public restrooms and concession facilities.

The fan-friendly facility houses dugouts and bullpen areas for both teams in addition to batting cages behind the third base dugout. A synthetic turf surface was installed in the outfield, warning track, foul territory and apron areas in June 2023 to surround the dirt infield. In addition, four outfield decks, holding up to 25 spectators each, were completed before the start of the 2023 season.

The new surface was part of a multi-phase renovation for the facility, which will transform Wilkins Stadium into a state-of-the-art space for the Wichita State softball program.

The renovations will feature a 12,471 square-foot team complex, including a locker room, coaches locker room, classroom, team room, athletic training room, staff offices, work room, umpire locker rooms and laundry area. In addition, a new indoor practice facility with a full practice field and batting cages will also be constructed.

Upgrades to fan amenities will be part of the renovation, including an enclosed concourse, berm outfield seating, a new scoreboard with video capabilities, expanded seating areas, suites and press box, ticket office, concession stands, additional restrooms, merchandise store, fan netting and outfield suites.

A variety of fan seating options, including chairback seating, bleacher seating and berm outfield seating, will expand the stadium's capacity to 1,500 fans.

Wilkins Stadium will be the third venue to host Athletes Unlimited Pro Softball AUX competition, joining SDSU Softball Stadium in San Diego, Calif. (2022) and Parkway Bank Sports Complex in Rosemont, Ill. (2023).

The outfield fence stands 215 feet from home plate to center field and 200 feet down the left and field lines. A fence extension has been added in left field and right field for the 2024 Athletes Unlimited Pro Softball AUX competition, making the fence 17 feet high. A fair ball that hits off the fence extension, which runs 68 feet long, during a game is in play.

WHO WE ARE

Athletes Unlimited is a new model of professional sports where athletes are decision makers and individual players are champions of team sports. We literally change the game with faster play and fluid teams, delivering next-level competition and engagement in which every moment counts. Starting in 2020 with Women's Softball and following with Women's Volleyball (2021), Women's Lacrosse (2021), Women's Basketball (2022) and AUX Softball (2022), Athletes Unlimited will build the next generation of both athletes and fans.

Our athletes are in charge of their team and league decisions, and of their individual success. We reboot timetables, rosters, and gameplay to create fast and exciting competition that speaks to contemporary sports fans, bringing them close to the action and the athletes in games where every moment counts. We incorporate the player-centric model that fans love about fantasy sports. We use digital media platforms and cutting-edge technology to connect fans deeply to athletes at the top of their game on and off the field, and to the game itself.

HOW THE TEAMS ARE SELECTED

A draft will be held prior to each series of games with the top three players in the individual leaderboard serving as the team captains. The captains will then fill their rosters by selecting 13 other players. Each draft will be held two days prior to the start of each six-game series.

Uniform colors will be assigned based on the team captain's rank on the leaderboard. The top-scoring captain's team will wear gold, while the second-highest point scorer's team dons orange jerseys. The third-place captain's team will wear blue jerseys during each series.

Each team will consist of 14 players, including four pitchers, two catchers, two middle infielders, two corner infielders, three outfielders and one designated player.

RULES OF INTEREST

Game Duration: Each Athletes Unlimited Pro Softball AUX game will consist of seven (7) innings regardless of the game's score. If the visiting team scores in the top of the seventh inning but trails in the game, the home team will bat in the bottom of the inning in an attempt to win the inning points.

Extra Innings: Team inning points and individual stat points are not earned in extra innings. Only inning points that have carried over from the seventh inning and team game win points can be accumulated. No individual stat points will be awarded once a game goes past the seventh inning.

Captain's Challenges: Each captain will be permitted two (2) video review challenges per game, which will be sent to the replay official for a final decision. A challenge must be indicated by one of the two designated team representatives either verbally or visually before the next pitch is thrown, before all members of the infield have left their positions and fair territory, or before the umpires have left the field of play. A challenge is indicated visually by tapping the top of the head with one hand.

In addition, umpires are allowed to initiate a video review of any call in the reviewable plays list once the game reaches the sixth inning.

The following plays can be reviewed:

- Whether a batted ball called fair, is fair or foul.
- Whether a batted ball called a ground-rule double or home run is fair or foul.
- Whether a batted ball called foul that could result in a ground-rule double or home run is fair or foul.
- Decide scoring players at home plate, including collisions (illegal and/or malicious slides), obstruction by a defensive player or timing plays
- Force tag/play calls
- Hit-by-pitch calls
- Placement of runners
- With runners on base, a no-catch call can be changed to a catch only if it results in a third out. With no runners on base, a no-catch call can be changed to a catch at any time.
- If the ball left the field of play on a home run
- All aspects of a scoring play or timing play
- Obstruction and interference at any base, only if the play in question results or would result in the third out of an inning and relates to a scoring/timing play
- Malicious/flagrant contact
- Deciding on a foul tip/foul ball at the plate, including a dropped strike

INDIVIDUAL LEADERBOARD

While traditional softball statistics are kept during each Athletes Unlimited Pro Softball AUX game, players earn individual points by accumulating those statistics. Points accumulated by statistics, inning and/or game wins and MVP selections are used to create an individual leaderboard, which determines captains for each series and the individual champion at the end of the season.

Points are awarded at the following increments during the game:

Single	+10 Points
Double	+20 Points
Triple	+30 Points
Home Run	+40 Points
Stolen Base	+10 Points
Caught Stealing	-10 Points
Base on Balls	+10 Points
Hit By Pitch	+8 Points
Sacrifice Fly/Bunt	+10 Points

In addition, pitchers are awarded at the following increments during the game:

Out Recorded	+4 Points
Earned Run Allowed	-10 Points

Every athlete on a team is awarded 10 individual points if the team wins a single inning. If the teams score the same number of runs in an inning, the points carry over to the next inning.

All of the athletes on the winning team in each game are awarded 50 individual points toward the individual leaderboard. The total score determines the overall game winner, which means a team may lose multiple innings, but still win the overall game.

A total of three MVPs will be selected following each game by the athletes with the top player earning 60 points. The second MVP receives 40 points, while the third MVP claims 20 points.

Beginning in the 2024 AUX competition, a player may earn 20 leaderboard points by being selected as the game's Defensive MVP. The player will only receive the points if the following conditions are met:

- The player is not selected as one of the three Game MVPs
- At least 50 percent of the players eligible must vote for a Defensive MVP

POSTSEASON AWARDS

Medals will be presented to the top three finishers on the leaderboard in addition to the Defensive MVP at the conclusion of the 2024 Athletes Unlimited Pro Softball AUX competition.

ATHLETE COMPENSATION

Athletes receive compensation in three ways during an Athletes Unlimited season: base pay, win bonuses (inning and game wins) and a leaderboard bonus. Players may also receive an additional bonus if their team registers a shutout victory.

MEDALS

The top three players on the final leaderboard in addition to the Defensive MVP will receive a medal designed and fabricated for Athletes Unlimited by Lisa Issenberg, founder of Kiitellä, Inc. The front face of the medal represents the identity of Athletes Unlimited, while the back face of the medal leans into the specific sport, the year, location and words about Athletes Unlimited's vision, mission and values on and off the field - Excellence in Community and Leadership.

THE BOOK OF UNLIMITED

The Book of Unlimited was designed, handmade and bound for Athletes Unlimited. The book weighs nearly 25 pounds, measures approximately 12" by 18" and contains nearly 500 pages. The champion, along with all who competed, are inscribed into the book. In addition, The Book of Unlimited also contains a history of achievements in Athletes Unlimited, including stories, highlights and events.

The book is opened during the Opening Ceremony for each season and is closed after the champion is named and her name is inscribed into the book. The tradition began during Athletes Unlimited Softball's inaugural season in 2020.

MORGAN ZERKLE'S JOURNEY FROM SMALL-TOWN UNDERDOG TO SOFTBALL PRO

By Savanna Collins
May 9, 2024

When you leave Marshall University, a few turns get you onto US Route 60, or the Midland Trail. From there, about a 25-minute drive east will take you to Milton, West Virginia where Morgan Zerkle grew up.

A town of just under 3,000, it's the starting point of Zerkle's softball career. Playing rec ball and then for the Mountain Thunder, a summer travel ball organization that started — and ended — with her and eleven or so teammates who played together growing up.

Zerkle was a small, quick, and gritty third baseman. In high school, she learned to slap hit and switched to solely hitting from the left side.

"I was really small then, so I wasn't super recruitable as a tiny right-handed hitter," Zerkle said.

Zerkle didn't know at the time her mantra of "figure it out" was already starting to come to life in her softball career.

ADAPT

Marshall Softball head coach Shonda Stanton saw the speed and power potential in the Cabell Midland High School infielder. Marshall was the only school to recruit Zerkle and signed her to compete with the Thundering Herd. She grew up wearing the green and white at football and basketball games, and attended sports clinics as a kid, but things were different when she stepped onto the campus as a freshman athlete in 2014.

"Going into college, it was the first time I really had a specific softball coach who wasn't just a dad," Zerkle explained. "I really didn't have a ton of coaches. I never took a single lesson growing up, and I never paid for someone to teach me how to hit or slap or do anything. It was all just local parents who had taught my team."

Now it was scrutinized skills training, drills, placement hitting, scouting, and technique. Zerkle had previously relied on her athleticism but at the next level, that wouldn't be enough.

"I cried a lot as a freshman," Zerkle remembers. "Mainly I'd never dealt with so much failure in my life or being told, 'Hey, you can't just get by with making contact, you have to do it this certain way and if you want to hit elite pitching, you have to do it this certain way.' I had a lot of tears freshman year trying to figure out how to hold myself to a higher standard, be coachable, and adjust to a higher level of softball."

The sole coach who recruited her was right about Zerkle; she had what it takes to adapt.

Zerkle earned a spot on the 2014 Conference USA All-Freshman Team and the NFCA Mid-east All-Region Second Team. In her sophomore year, she won the Golden Shoe Award for leading the nation in stolen bases, was second in the NCAA in batting average (.506), and tied for fourth in hits (89). Zerkle went on to become an All-American, Conference Player of the Year, two-time Marshall Athlete of the Year, and two-time USA Softball Collegiate Player of the Year Finalist.

"Coming into college I knew I was good, but I didn't know what ceiling I could have if I learned a lot more things. [Coach Stanton] didn't let me get by just being the best athletically, she made me refine my skills as well."

UNDERDOG

Zerkle collected some of the highest honors in softball throughout her collegiate career after defying the odds of a small town and travel ball team no one had heard of. But at the 2017 National Pro Fastpitch Draft, she was right back to being the underdog. Zerkle was the No. 26 pick — the final pick — of the draft, chosen by the Scrap Yard Dawgs.

She wasn't joining the pro league with a Power Five pedigree. The stigma around midmajor softball athletes was still prevalent.

"I always felt like I constantly had to prove myself, whereas other people kind of just had the respect because of where they came from and I felt like I've always had to work extra hard to prove myself or earn that respect."

She was ready to take on the next learning curve, facing elite pitchers and the politics of maintaining a spot on the ever-dwindling rosters in pro softball.

Zerkle played three seasons in the NPF and competed internationally with Team USA. She joined Athletes Unlimited in 2020 for the inaugural season and has played 82 games in the AU Pro Softball Championship and AUX seasons, more than any other athlete in league history.

The name Morgan Zerkle is scattered across the league record books. When looking at AUX and Championship season career leaders, Zerkle is fourth in batting average (.347), third in runs (58), third in hits (91), and second in stolen bases (19).

"I think one thing that you have to do to be successful in the pro world is be accountable with yourself — it's on you to work out to stay in shape, to stay hitting, to stay ready when your season is short. You have all year round, you're by yourself training," Zerkle said.

This was something Zerkle had long ago figured out. Growing up in a small town without lessons, trainers, and coaches didn't just make her an underdog, it made her independent.

"I had to teach myself and learn myself at an older, smarter time in my life," Zerkle said.

She explained how sometimes at a young age, players who are coached and find excellence and recognition within softball early may not know what makes them good. She gave the example of elite athletes who are great but don't know why.

"I didn't just wake up great. It took me a long time to get to the level I am now, and I think that helps me coach other people that aren't maybe the level they want to be at because I've been there in their shoes and I had to really work for it and continue to work for it even after I graduated. Yeah, I've been in the pro league eight years now, but my first pro season looked a lot different than it has the past couple of years."

The proof is in the numbers. In a league with seasons as short as two weeks and no longer than five, Zerkle rarely struggles in slumps at AU Pro Softball. She is second in all-time leaderboard points with 7,646 finishing in the top six three different times and the top half of all athletes every season she's played with AU Pro Softball except for one.

Of the 26 athletes in Zerkle's NPF draft class, only six continue to play pro professionally today. She's one of the few who has found longevity and prominence in her career.

COACH

While she continued to hone her craft as an athlete, Zerkle pursued coaching. She served as a graduate assistant at Indiana, reconnecting with former Marshall head coach Shonda Stanton. She spent four seasons at Miami University as an assistant.

Now when Zerkle pulls into Marshall's Dot Hicks Field, it's not as a young fan or an athlete. It's as the head coach. In June she was chosen as the fifth head coach in the softball program's history.

She will also compete in the 2024 AUX and Championship season.

"I think if I were to give it up, I would be sending my student-athletes the wrong message; I want them to know that they can chase their dreams," Zerkle said. "I still fail and strike out and do all the things and I can relate to you because I still do that at a high level."

No one can relate to their players quite like Zerkle and the coaching staff she's assembled. On her staff are current AU athlete Sydney McKinney, former AU athlete Aly Harrell, and Allison Rager who served as a facilitator during the 2023 season.

Her players see her as a confident and outspoken coach, leader, and professional player, "but it took me a long time to get to this state," she said.

"I was not confident for a good period of time. I was shy and insecure and quiet and I had to really adapt myself to be the head coach that I am now," Zerkle said.

"I think some people just see how I am and think that's just who I was naturally, but it's not. I definitely had to work on myself in a lot of areas to be the person I am now, and I wish they knew that so they could also believe in their own ability to improve in areas."

If you look up Morgan Zerkle's bio on the pro teams she played for, the basics can lead you down the winding (country) roads of her career.

Milton, West Virginia: The small town and state she'd travel all over playing softball.

L/R: Bats left, throws right speaks to when she adjusted at a young age to make her a tough out at the plate.

Marshall University: The only school that recruited her but found one of their best players in program history.

"I did not come out of high school great. I didn't come out of college great. But I continue to grow in my game and I think that's why I'm still here now."

MONTANA FOUTS STEPS BACK INTO THE CIRCLE WITH AU PRO SOFTBALL

By Savanna Collins
June 12, 2024

When her morning alarm goes off, Montana Fouts no longer goes to a 6 a.m. lift like she has the past five years. Instead, she heads out to start her day on her farm in Grayson, Kentucky.

Fouts has pitched on the biggest stage in front of more than 12,000 people at the Women's College World Series but lately, her audience has been her two cows, two goats, four dogs, and 22 chickens.

After graduating from Alabama in 2023, Fouts competed with Team USA at the Pan American Games but didn't sign to play professional ball in the United States or abroad. One of the brightest shining stars in college softball took a year off to work on her other dreams: starting a farm, putting on camps and clinics, and being back in the town with the people she loves most.

No one aside from the 12-year-old softball players at her lessons has seen her pitch in the past year.

Until now.

STEPPING INTO THE CIRCLE AGAIN

It's AUX Softball Opening Day, and Team Leach is preparing to play their second game of a doubleheader. Captain Aubrey Leach has slated Fouts as the starter.

Her accessories in the circle include a gold bow to match her uniform, her face mask, and a camo brace on her left leg.

She says the brace is more for confidence than anything, one of the only remaining indicators of the ACL tear she suffered during Alabama's conference tournament game against Arkansas in 2023.

But it's probably the last thing you notice once Fouts got going on Monday night. Her command of pitches left hitters off balance, allowing her to cruise through four innings giving up three hits and a sole run while striking out four batters.

If there was pressure of hype to live up to, Fouts sure didn't show it. In her postgame interview, she said she's taking it pitch by pitch.

"I feel like it's like that for everybody no matter what position you play," Fouts said. "I'm gonna take it pitch by pitch and trust my teammates."

Her first "W" in the win column as a pro. Any questions about Fouts' pitching transferring to the pro level were answered on night one.

TAKING A STEP BACK

Within the past year, Fouts had a bigger question to ask herself: Who is she outside of softball?

"I feel like the longer that I was in Tuscaloosa, the more I understood what Coach Murphy was just trying to get me to understand the whole five years – that softball is what you do, it's not who you are," Fouts said.

Months and months without competing, Fouts continued to return to what her Crimson Tide head coach had been asking her all along. As she rehabbed her knee and trained, it was her core value.

"I figured it would be hard just watching it on TV and not necessarily doing it whenever it's what you've done for so long. But honestly, I was just really thankful to have been in that spot in the first place – and I'm excited that I still get to continue to play – but also really dialing in on other things that I love to do, not softball."

Fouts lives just 20 minutes from her friends and family in Grayson. It's a small town of about 3,000 people and only a handful of stoplights. She gushes when she talks about her home and the people she spends time with. It's clear the title of "friend" is dear to her. She'll soon add the title of "Aunt"; her sister is expecting a baby. And "farmer" too except with the caveat of "intro farmer."

"I'm learning, so I don't know if I can quite take the title yet," Fouts said.

For the past year, this has been her; she's taken time to herself and stepped back from being a player.

"Honestly, I feel like I gave everything I had to Alabama, I mean every last ounce of it. I did everything I could for the five years. So I feel like I earned the year to kind of just heal my body in a way," Fouts said.

Before heading to AUX, Fouts attended a church picnic with her best friend Abby. They have been friends throughout middle and high school. She's one of Fouts' tight-knit friends with whom she's shared her early softball dreams.

College, Women's College World Series, pro. "I would write it down all over the place," Fouts said.

One of those places was the wall of a building she used to practice in as a kid – a piece of wall she now owns. Someone recognized Fouts and her inscribed dream before the building was torn down and saved it for her.

"I signed my name in big print, drew one of the ugliest softballs we've ever seen, and the date of 2010 or something like that," Fouts said.

Along with All-American, Honda Award winner, and national team member, Fouts can now check off that third dream and add professional softball player to her titles.

"I obviously had some injuries, but to go home, take a step back and just find out why you love it again..."

That's why she's at AU now.

STEPPING INTENTIONALLY TOWARDS HER PURPOSE

It's day two of the AUX season, and Team Leach is facing Team Wiggins for the second day in a row. The captain switches things up, starting Payton Gottshall who Wiggins' lineup had yet to see. Gottshall allowed two hits and an unearned run in 2.1 innings.

This time, Fouts enters in relief. Team Wiggins doesn't cross home the rest of the game. Fouts threw 4 and 2/3 innings sitting down six batters this time allowing just two hits.

"I feel like now I'm just playing because I love the game," Fouts said. "That's really what's transformed in my softball career. I truly love it more than I ever have."

Facing the best hitters in the world, Fouts recognized the caliber of her competition at the plate but wasn't weighed down by the gravity of it. She had other softball players on her mind – the ones who came to see her.

"This morning I was praying on how I could be useful today and I was thinking about all the little girls that were in the [autograph] line yesterday and I was like, 'I want them to see somebody that can compete really hard and then go out there and give them the biggest smile they've ever seen.' So that was my goal today, just because I knew we were going to do it. I know it sounds silly. I mean, of course, I was locked in each pitch, but that was my motivation today."

Despite what her serious expression in the circle may convey, "I'm just having fun now," she said. And as she scribbled her signature on dozens of softballs, posters, and visors in the autograph line, she smiled ear to ear.

MCKENZIE CLARK'S UNFATHOMABLE DEBUT

By Savanna Collins
June 19, 2024

On AUX Opening Day, McKenzie Clark sat in the dugout, listening to her teammates chit-chat. She looked around at the group.

"I remember watching you on TV, I remember watching you on TV. I actually remember modeling my game after you. I saw you play at the World Series," she thought to herself.

Clark waited in her Gold team jersey. From beneath her reflective orange and purple Nike sunglasses, her signature cross eye black tapered down from her cheek to her jawline.

Then it dawned on her: "They're going to call my name."

Over the stadium speakers, the public address announcer called out, "And now make some noise for the rookies! At outfield... McKenzie Clark!"

Out of the dugout she bounced, a huge grin spreading across her face.

"This is amazing," Clark said, talking about the moment. "Not anything I could have ever wished for or dreamt of."

If you had told the rookie five years ago she would be a pro softball player, she would have laughed in your face. She still does – almost every time Clark is asked about making her pro debut, becoming a captain, or now being one of the top performers of the season she chuckles, almost out of bewilderment.

Clark had planned on traveling to Wichita but only to visit her friends who were signed to play in the season, not participate herself. One of her coaches at Clemson asked to send Clark's phone number to Sam Fischer, the chairperson of the Athletes Unlimited Pro Softball Player Executive Committee, who helps build the roster. Clark wasn't sure.

"I don't know if it's for me, I'm officially a NARP (non-athletic regular person) now," she told her coach. "Just graduated, we just finished regionals... I don't know."

What Clark also didn't know is that she was far from that.

Five days after talking to Fischer and signing her contract, Clark reported to AUX. Seven days later she ran out of the dugout and stepped onto the dirt as a pro. Two days after her debut, she hit her first professional home run – a grand slam to boot.

Clark wowed in the opening series, picking up stat and MVP points for her versatile offense and spectacular defense. It catapulted her up the leaderboard and she became a captain for Series Two.

Whether flinging herself through the air for fly balls or trotting around the bases, Clark hasn't looked nervous.

"No, I'm a little delusional," she laughed. "I mean, what an incredible stage to be [on] out here just throwing and hitting and catching a yellow ball with some of the best of the best. I can't be anything more than grateful."

Clark seems to have a knack for being right on time to where she's meant to be. She played travel softball with the Tampa Mustangs and was one of the last of her team to sign to a college program. She was a sophomore and still unsure until Clemson came along.

She joined the fledgling program in just its second year in history and was a part of establishing what it means to be a Clemson Tiger softball player.

"I just came from a really big family and I can't wait to bring in the aspects of the game that I learned from there and bring it here," Clark said.

She holds Clemson career records in triples (13), runs scored (198), stolen bases (46), hit by pitches (29), and sac flies (11), as well as a handful of single-season records.

Clark's passion, which she credits to flourishing with her Clemson family, doesn't go unnoticed – like how she pumped her fist and screamed back to her dugout across the field after a triple.

For a moment, Clark lost that. Her zeal for the game was replaced by a heaviness of all the things she had to do. Perform, show up, do well.

"I was taking it more as a job," Clark explained. "I took the game very seriously and at some part of my life I found out that the joy and the love for the game was being stripped away from me."

During her junior year at Clemson, she stepped back and had some tough conversations with herself.

"You've been playing this game since you were four years old. It's supposed to be fun with some of your best friends... people that you met and now you get to have a friendship for a lifetime. It's just a game. Have fun with it, be passionate, and you're supposed to love what you do."

That's why she's the McKenzie Clark fans see on the field now.

So far, Clark has led her team to a 2-1 record with one game left in Series Two on Wednesday night. She's third overall in the league standings.

When Clark joined the AU Pro Softball, her contract only included the AUX season. Now, she will also compete in the Championship Season in Rosemont, Illinois later this summer after signing a contract extension.

"Now I get to come out here with so much freedom and just float around, be a grass fairy for a little bit," she smiled. "I can't be anything other than extremely happy to be here."
